The 1957 ORACLE

MALVERNE HIGH SCHOOL

Malverne, New York

"All the world's a stage . . ." spake the renowned Shakespeare. His ringing words, coupled with the ancient Greek masks of tragedy and comedy, have become the universal symbols of life as mirrored in the theater. So, also, they symbolize the theme of our 1957 Oracle. Purchase your ticket to see the years at Malverne unfold before your eyes. Seat yourself in our vast audience and watch the play. As you hear the cast "speak their speeches and strut their hour upon the stage," know as they receive their laurels at the footlights that encores will be theirs for years to come, whenever this Oracle is opened and each scene enacted again and again.

SCHUMACHER

"Reason and calm judgement, the qualities specially belonging to a leader."

TACITUS

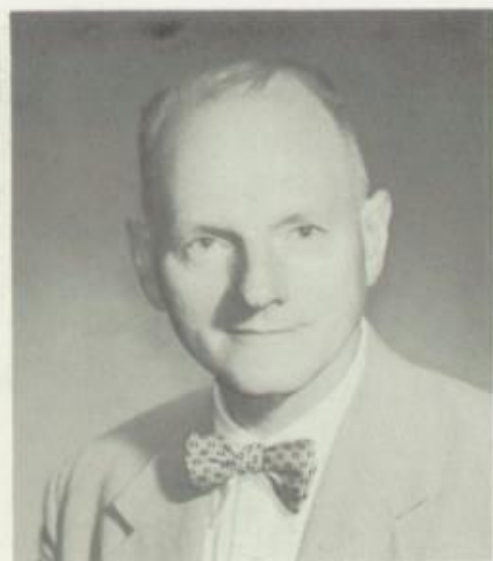

We of Malverne are especially proud of the members of our Board of Education. These directors behind the scenes of our play work unselfishly and unstintingly to keep Malverne Junior-Senior High School one of the best in the land. By their "reason and calm judgement" we look to them for leadership in the knowledge that our interests and theirs are one.

TO WALTER H. HOLT

Every good play has excellent leading actors, but behind the scenes supporting them, guiding them, and inspiring them is always a fine director. The Class of 1957 has been especially fortunate in having as its adviser Mr. Walter H. Holt, the finest director any class could desire. Guiding and supporting us in every activity from the solution of a geometric problem, to the swelling of our class treasury, to our own student problems, we have always been able to feel that from Mr. Holt the advice would be good, the ideas sound, and the gesture sincere. It is the greatest pleasure of our Senior year that we are able to dedicate this Oracle to him.

THOMAS ROMANS Tom is the popular President of his class, as well as being President of the Teen-Age Council. Active in sports, he has played Varsity Football, Basketball, and Track. He has contributed to both the Mule and Oracle, and is a member of the Student Council. A musical hobbist, we shall long remember his "hot" numbers on the sax. As an outstanding class leader and member, Tom has set a fine record which we are proud to applaud.

JEROME KIMMEL Our capable and hard working Vice-President held the same office in Student Council. Other offices which he held were: Associate Editor of the Oracle, Sergeant of Student Police, and a writer for the Mule and Oracle Literary staffs. Jerry was in Varsity Tennis and Basketball for three years, as well as on Teen-Age Council. Outside of school he still found time to work as President of his Malverne Youth Group.

OFFICERS — CLASS of '57

PATRICIA REILLY Vivacious and fun-loving Pat is the popular Secretary of our class. Musically minded, she has sung for Lyres, Chorus, and the Operettas. Also athletically minded, she has been active in Hockey, Basketball, Bowling, Badminton, and Sports Nights, and served as President of the Cadettes. Pat carried the responsibility of Co-Circulation Manager of the Mule, and was an outstanding member of Teen-Age Council.

JUDY ROJAS Lieutenant Governor of Empire Girls' State, Judy has been one of our most admired Seniors. Treasurer of her class, she also worked as Co-Feature Editor of the Mule, on Teen-Age Council, Assembly Committees, Cadettes, the Senior Play, and was on Honor Society. Judy has illustrated her leadership while participating in these varied activities, and we wish her well in her plans to pursue a career in the field of medicine.

NANCY KELLY Editor-in-Chief of the Oracle, Student Police Sergeant, Honor Society President, on the Mule Staffs, and Library Council. Nancy was also on Teen-Age Council and in the Senior Play. In addition, this future nurse was active in Sports and Secretary of the Chorus.

CAROLYN FLUHR Pert, popular Carol is one of Malverne's greatest assets. Her main interests were Sports, Cadettes, Honor Society, Library Council, and Student Police. She worked hard as Business Manager of the Oracle, and plans to attend junior college in preparation for a secretarial career.

MARIE SCHUMACHER Marie has shown her artistic talent as Oracle Art Editor and designer and painter of the Junior Prom mural. She has served on the Library Council and Oracle Literary Staff. With her great interest in art, Marie plans to become an art teacher after college.

EDITORS ALL

CLARE BOLTON An indispensable Associate Editor of the Oracle, Clare was also active in Sports for which she won her numeral, shield, and letter. Add to this Student Police Sergeant, Cadettes, Honor Society, Library Council, Teen-Age Council, and work on the Mule for this future secretary.

JACK BREGMAN Student Police for four years and Baseball for two were just a few of Jack's activities. He also worked as Photography Editor of the Oracle and wrote for the Sports Staff of the Mule. He plans to attend college.

MARIAN CLAUSEN Marian has lent her pretty voice to Lyres and Chorus. She was also active in Sports and received her shield and letter. In addition she worked on the Oracle and Mule staffs. Next stop, secretarial work.

GAIL FEINBERG Our popular Booster Manager of the Oracle was also very sports-minded. Active in athletics herself, she participated in all the Sport Night activities. Gail plans to attend college where she will study nursing.

GLORIA McINTOSH As Correspondence Manager of the Oracle, Gloria has done a superb job! She was also a member of Library Council, Home Economics Club, and the Mule staffs. Active in Sports she received her numeral.

GERTRUDE SCHOMAKER Advertising Manager of the Oracle, Gert has also served on the Mule. She has been active as Library Council President, and a member of Student Police, and a participant in many Sports. Secretarial work is next.

LLOYD ABRAMS Lloyd joined us in his Freshman year and since then has been an active member of our class. He is very interested in model building and would like to become a draftsman at some future date.

CONSTANCE ADAMS Our Drum-Majorette has busied herself with many activities. She is the Associate Editor of the Mule, Vice-President of the Library Council, and a member of Honor Society and Cadettes.

JOHN ALLEGRO John participated in Wrestling and Football during his school career. The National Guard occupied his out-of-school hours. He plans to study mechanics in the Air Force, after graduating from Malverne.

SHIRLEY ALLEN Popular and happy Shirley, active in Sports, winning both her numeral and her shield, was Secretary of the Library Council and a member of the Dramatics Club, Chorus, and an Attendance Assistant. Shirley hopes to study fashion designing.

MICHAEL ALWELL Mike has shared much of his free time between Track, Football, and Bowling. He was also a member of the Dramatics Club and the Visual Aids Staff. Mike plans to attend Kings Point and then enter the Merchant Marines.

RICHARD AMANN Always smiling Rich is one of our more popular seniors. He was the Secretary-Treasurer of his Senior Homeroom, and while his extra-curricular activities were limited because of his after-school job, he still found time for Track and Wrestling.

JOHN ANDERSON Andy can often be seen tinkering with his car. He excelled on both the Track and Cross Country teams. He was also a Red Cross representative and played in the Junior High School Band. The Air Force is his present ambition.

PERRY RUSSO Holding many homeroom offices, Perry was a valuable member of our class. Among his activities were Student Police, Red Cross, Color Guard, and Student Council. College is the next step for Perry.

BARBARA SCHMEELK Active on the Mule Staffs, Barbara has also been a member of the Home Economics Club. In Sports she chose Badminton, Volleyball, and Bowling. This future secretary also found time for her church choir.

DONALD SCHMOLL Varsity Football, Basketball, and Baseball evidence Don's interest in sports. He has also been active in Chorus, Mule, and Honor Society. Don plans to continue his varied interests in College.

CAROL ANN SCHNEIDER Our busy Mule Typing Editor and future secretary, Carol Ann has been active in Student Council, and excelled in Volleyball. Outside of school she taught her favorite hobby of dancing to those less talented.

THOMAS SEWARD Associate Editor of the Mule, Tom served his school well. He was a member of Honor Society, Student Police, Visual Aids, Stage Crew, and Band. In addition, Tom earned many first prizes in the Long Island Science Congress.

PAUL SHUPACK An active member of our class, Paul has spent much time as Co-Feature Editor of the Mule. He was also President of the Chess Club, on Library Council, and was an outstanding participant of the Band for six years.

LEE SIMON Lee is a real headliner! On his list of activities are Boys' State Representative, Student Police, Chorus, Honor Society, three years Class Treasurer, four years in Varsity Football, and Basketball, and the Senior Play.

MARIE SIRCHIA A future secretary, Marie has joined in Student Council, Home Economics Club, Lyres, Chorus, Homeroom offices, and many Sports. Outside of school found her active in her church choir and Sodality.

VALERIE SJOGREN Busy girl, our Val, on Oracle, Mule, in Chorus, Lyres, Operettas, Homeroom offices, and Sport Night. In addition, she held a part-time job outside of school. Val plans to become a nurse.

SHIRLEY SNEED A newcomer to Malverne in her Junior year, Shirley is interested in sewing and art. She attended the school of Industrial Arts before coming to Malverne, and she majored in a silk screening technician course.

ELLEN STEPHENS An important member of the Business Staffs of the Oracle and Mule, Ellen has lent her soprano voice to Chorus and Lyres Club. Her activities also list Hockey, Basketball, Softball, Stunts and Tumbling, and Bowling.

BRYAN STEPHENSON After spending most of his life in Bermuda, "Steve" has attended Malverne for only his Senior year. In Bermuda he was active in such sports as swimming, soccer, water-polo, and baseball. He plans to attend college.

SUSAN STIX Active on the Mule as Publicity Editor, Susan has also worked on the Oracle Literary Staff. She was in Honor Teams in Sports, Teen-age Council, and was Senior Play Student Director. College is ahead for Sue.

MARILYN THOMPSON Although Marilyn had a part-time job, she found time for Library Council, Mule staffs, Chorus, Volleyball, Basketball, Badminton, Table Tennis, and Sport Night. Her future looks bright for the office career she plans.

MARY THOMSON A sports-minded Senior, Mary has participated in Bowling, Basketball, Volleyball, Hockey, and Sport Night, as well as being on the Business Staff of the Mule. Her future will take her into a secretarial career.

JAMES TOSNER Planning to enter the Armed Forces, Jim has been interested in sports. He has received a letter for Baseball, and Football, and has participated in Basketball. He is interested in electronics and plans to be a technical engineer.

BETTY VAN WICKLER A valuable member of Chorus, Betty has also been active in Bowling. Outside of school she has been an officer of her church's youth group. Although busy with all her activities, she found time for her hobby of sewing.

DAVID WAKS Active in service organizations and the Chess League, Dave has been a busy Senior. He has participated in Visual Aids, Stage Crew and Library Council and has been Photography Editor of the Mule. He is also a Science Congress Winner.

PETER WALSH A sports fan, Pete has played Football and Wrestling. His hobbies are many, some of which are fishing and guns, and he is active in the National Guard. Outside of school, he has had a part-time job. He plans to attend college.

JOAN WANSER Active in sports, such as Bowling, Hockey, and Table Tennis, Joan was also Red Cross representative. This future secretary enjoys such hobbies as swimming, horseback riding, dancing and singing. Besides this, she has been on Mule Business Staff.

WALTER WARING A sports-minded Senior, Wally has participated in Track and Cross Country. He is a member of the Student Police, which is significant since he plans a career of law enforcement. His hobbies are hunting and boating.

HENRY WILLIAMS Amiable Henry was a real standout through two campaigns of Varsity Basketball. His lanky frame could often be seen on the basketball court which was his favorite pastime. Hunting, fishing, and cartooning occupy Henry's leisure hours.

ELAINE WINKLER Editor of her own column "Exchange with Elaine" she has been a busy girl on the Mule staff. She has also been seen working on the Oracle Business Staff, Sports, and Cadettes. She plans to attend college studying to be a dental hygienist.

LAURENCE WOLBURG Larry's main interests lie in the athletic vein. He was a Varsity Wrestler in his Sophomore year until an injury sidelined him. This year he played on the Varsity Football squad. Larry would like to study Business Administration.

MARGARET ZWETCH Secretary-Treasurer of her home-room, Peggy has been a hard and sincere worker for the Oracle Literary Staff and the Mule Business Staff. She was active in Badminton and Volleyball and plans to attend a state teachers college.

CLASS of 1958

Here is a class which has prepared itself to fill the soon-to-be vacated seats of seniority. Being active and cooperative, the members of the Class of '58 have worked harmoniously on several projects during the past year. They raised funds to support their forthcoming Senior Banquet, and made this year's Junior Prom the ultimate in decoration, entertainment, and sheer enjoyment. Following the good example set by their predecessors, our class is certain to continue making worthy contributions to Malverne High School.

Do you collect programs as souvenirs of all the plays you have seen? Then you realize the importance of giving "credit where credit is due" As the playbill names actors in a theatrical production, so the Oracle credits Malverne students of outstanding service and honor. Early in September each Oracle staff held organizational meetings, and soon assignments were handed out. Members of the Literary Staff drafted their articles, and these, as well as senior write-ups, were compiled and edited by Editor-in-Chief Nancy Kelly and her Associate Editors Clare Bolton and Jerry Kimmel under the guidance of Miss Helen Dugas. In charge of the Art Staff was Marie Schumacher directed by Miss Ethel Grote who created the artistic layout. Photography was directed by Mr. Christian Mills and Photo Manager Jack Bregman aided by Editor Nancy Kelly. Mr. John Faller took the hundreds of interesting pictures which make our yearbook so exciting. The "Angels" of our production were the Business Staff directed by Mr. Mills and headed by Carolyn Fluhr. Advertising was handled by Gertrude Schomaker while the work of getting subscriptions and boosters was tackled by Circulation Manager Marian Clausen and Booster Manager Gail Feinberg. The vast area of correspondence was handled by the Manager and Gloria McIntosh and directed by Mrs. Margaret Hinkel. All financial records were tabulated by Mr. Robert Rich. From director to bit player, each person who worked on the yearbook deserves praise for a commendable job. In future years, Malverne students will recall fond memories with the aid of the 1957 Oracle. Then, will our true reward be felt.

MALVERNE MULE

The stage is set, the actors in place, and the drawing of the curtain finds them hard at work on the first edition of the Malverne Mule. The publication of the Mule is a play within a play and a major theme running through every scene. Advising the script writers is Miss Jenella Anderson whose excellent guidance is the main reason for the great success of our school paper. Alicia Berton, the Editor, is often seen scanning the script with her Co-Editors Constance Adams and Tom Seward. In addition to the many articles published, pictures are taken of the important scenes by the Photography Staff. Fred Lassen oversees the art work submitted, and Feature Editors Judy Rojas and Paul Shupack keep their fingers upon the pulse of activities around the school. Sports Editors Mike Cohen and Rosalind Greenbaum keep tabs on athletic events about school. Carolyn Barry carried out the tasks of Business Manager assisted by Ellen Proctor. Publicity Editor Susan Stix saw that the first scene went over well, as will the last, since all financial tasks are in good hands, and former Malvernites and out-of-towners know of the play through Exchange Editor Elaine Winkler. Circulation

MISS JENELLA ANDERSON, Adviser

Editors Barbara Dixon and Patricia Reilly see that every one has a script, and the credit for all the typing goes to Carol Schneider. At the close of the first act, everyone knew the rest of the play would be equally successful since each was out doing his share to make the Malverne Mule a hit. The majority of the audience was walking around with a copy — no one wanted to be without one for this was the best play they had seen. All agreed there was a great variety of entertainment with something for everyone. As the house lights dimmed we scurried to our seats to await the next exciting scene.

One of the most attractive settings of our play is the Library. A quiet, busy place efficiently run by Miss Louise Tyrrell and her assistant Miss Madeline McDermott, the Library is a source of knowledge and pleasure for many Malvernites. Seventy-two members of Library Council assist in shelving, checking, and preparing books for circulation. We are glad to see these deserving students enjoy their Annual Library Dinner and excursion to a Broadway show. As an audience we are truly aware that this pleasant Library scene is an invitation to read.

"A policeman's lot is not a happy one" — so chorus the forty members of Student Police as they work to efficiently direct the traffic of more than eleven hundred students. Under the guidance of Mr. Christian Mills and led by a captain and three sergeants, we watch them as they keep order at dances, concerts, and athletic events, as well as the important Civil Defense and Fire Drills. The precision with which this cast plays its many scenes brings shouts of admiration and applause from an appreciative audience.

Step lively, please.

The Student Council sets the stage for a great number of our student activities throughout the school year. It is comprised of the various homeroom representatives with Mr. Charles Ray as its adviser. In 1957 Alicia Berton was elected as the first feminine President of the Student Association. She was assisted by Co-Vice-Presidents Jerry Kimmel and William Mason who also acted as Treasurer, and Peggy Reilly as Secretary. The Council is both the legislative and executive body for the school.

It corrects any apparent faults, sponsors many activities, and keeps student programs running smoothly. For the third straight year 100% membership was attained. The Council provided buses and sponsored rallies for many sports events. With the arrival of the Foreign students the Council welcomed them and worked to make their visit enjoyable and memorable. The Student Council has contributed a great deal to make this year a happy one at Malverne. We are proud to applaud their efforts.

HONOR SOCIETY

President Nancy Kelly and Secretary-Treasurer Clare Bolton light the torches of the 1957 Honor Society members as they take their places in the organization.

Congratulations!

The lights are dim; the audience is waiting expectantly for the scene which they know is traditionally one of the most moving and impressive of our entire play — the National Honor Society induction ceremonies. Here is an "all star" scene in which the fine qualities of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service are rewarded. No understudies, these, but skilled performers who, as the audience sits taut with interest and emotion, walk the candle-lit stage to stand in the spotlight of deserved recognition.

SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

ATTENDANCE ASSISTANTS

The Attendance Assistants perform a vital service each day by keeping the absentee records accurate. They provide this important service for the state as well as the school.

There are some indispensable groups in the school, who help to keep the wheels oiled and running smoothly. The members of these "Helper" groups serve loyally and well, with little glory and scant recognition. Not many of us are aware of how much they really do for the welfare of the school, or how much we are indebted to them daily for their time and efforts. In "Operation Schooldays" these eager, willing hands work with surprising efficiency making a real contribution to their Alma Mater; yet they readily admit that all the hard work is gratifying, satisfying, and fun. Surely they deserve a hearty cheer for difficult tasks well done.

TEEN-AGE COUNCIL

Members of the Teen-Age Council provide many programs for school and community endeavoring to coordinate the two more closely. This organization also concentrates upon charitable projects.

STAGE CREW

The Stage Crew members labor hard and long behind the scenes as carpenters, painters, electricians, and artists to create the effects which delight the eyes of the audiences.

MAKE-UP COMMITTEE

The Make-Up Committee helps make the smashing theatrical successes of the Malverne stage, without receiving the curtain calls or applause.

VISUAL AIDS

Members of the Visual Aids Staff are the technicians who perform an unusually fine bit of work for school and students. Managing hundreds of films and filmstrips each year, they bring knowledge and enjoyment to all classes.

ASSEMBLIES

Settle back in your comfortable chair, and prepare yourself for a pleasant interlude in the daily routine. Time for assembly! The assemblies at Malverne High are always welcome because they cover so many different fields of entertainment, so planned by Mrs. Muriel Tuerk and her capable staff that all tastes and interests will be satisfied. This is a time for relaxing among pleasant surroundings, stirred by the music of our fine organ; and the time when we always solemnly and sincerely pay our respects to our flag, our country, and our school. It may be pure entertainment one time; informative material another; subtle constructive criticism; or audience participation — but always great fun.

COME OUT OF the CLOSET

THE SENIOR PLAY of the 1956-57 season was presented on December 1st. "Come Out of the Closet" by Robin W. Coyle opened as three eager girls from Ohio arrived in the big city, and because of low finances were forced to rent a gloomy, run-down apartment from a greedy landlady. Renting the flat by the person was cheaper, so the girls paid for two and the third lass hid in the closet. The plot was further complicated by a community kitchen shared with a new and harassed father and a "modernistic poet". Aided by their athletic boyfriends, the girls spent a harrowing time warding off prowlers, and hiding from the landlady, climaxed by the discovery of counterfeit money. With the hindrence of Sweeny, the worst of New York's finest, the poet was finally revealed as the counterfeiter and order was created out of chaos as the curtains closed on an amusing evening.

CHORUS LINE

Marie Sirchia, Ellen Grossman, Valerie Sjogren, Patricia Reilly, Linda Camiakides, Ellen Proctor, Antoinette Burgess, Judy Frazier.

STAGE CREW

Standing: Rosalind Greenbaum, Katherine Bagensie, Alicia Berton.

Sitting: Katherine Bagensie. Standing: Lee Simon, Shirley Allen, Nancy Kelly, Walter Waring, Barbara Dixon, and Lawrence Novak.

Directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Ackerman and staged by Miss Ethel Grote, the play was another successful act in our school life. Behind the scenes the Stage Crew, Make-Up Committee, prompters, and production assistants all helped to support the actors and actresses upon the stage who presented a humorous and applause-winning play. Shown here are the stars going through rehearsals in preparation for the evening of December 1st and another Malverne hit.

Susan Stix, Patricia Hilms, Paul Shupack, Frank Gulotta, John Grofcsik, Arlene Murphy, and Robert Meyer.

AT REHEARSAL

COMBINED BAND

"Here comes the band!" is really an enthusiastic cry around our school since Mr. Robert Berger lifted his baton to lead Malverne's two bands. Adding zest and school spirit with their exciting musical numbers at football games, the Band also entertained us with their toe-tapping repertoire at assemblies and concerts. Our award-winning Twirling Corps directed by Mr. Walter McShea added color and interest in their support of "the best band in the land".

VOCAL MUSIC

PRACTICE MAKES

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

“ . . . so pleasing to the ear.” Homer

Like the ancient poet, when the curtains part and the ever impressive sight of our fine vocal groups on Malverne's wide stage appears before us, we are certain of music “so pleasing to the ear”. Directed by Mr. Lewis Benzon, these groups in addition to their annual concerts performed the musical “Wonderful Town” which was one of the high lights of the 1956-57 season.

GIRLS CHORUS

RED CROSS COUNCIL

Donald Clement, Miss Marjorie Breunig, Donald Schmoll, Robert Dangoia, Arthur Tillman, Roberta Worth, Joyce Connolly, Joan Wanser, Grace La Porta, Robert Gunderson, Ellen Riefler, Judith Hoey, Mary Di Stefano, Penny Sawyer, Rosalind Greenbaum, Eugene Masula, Judith Ober, Harry Burke, David Goodman.

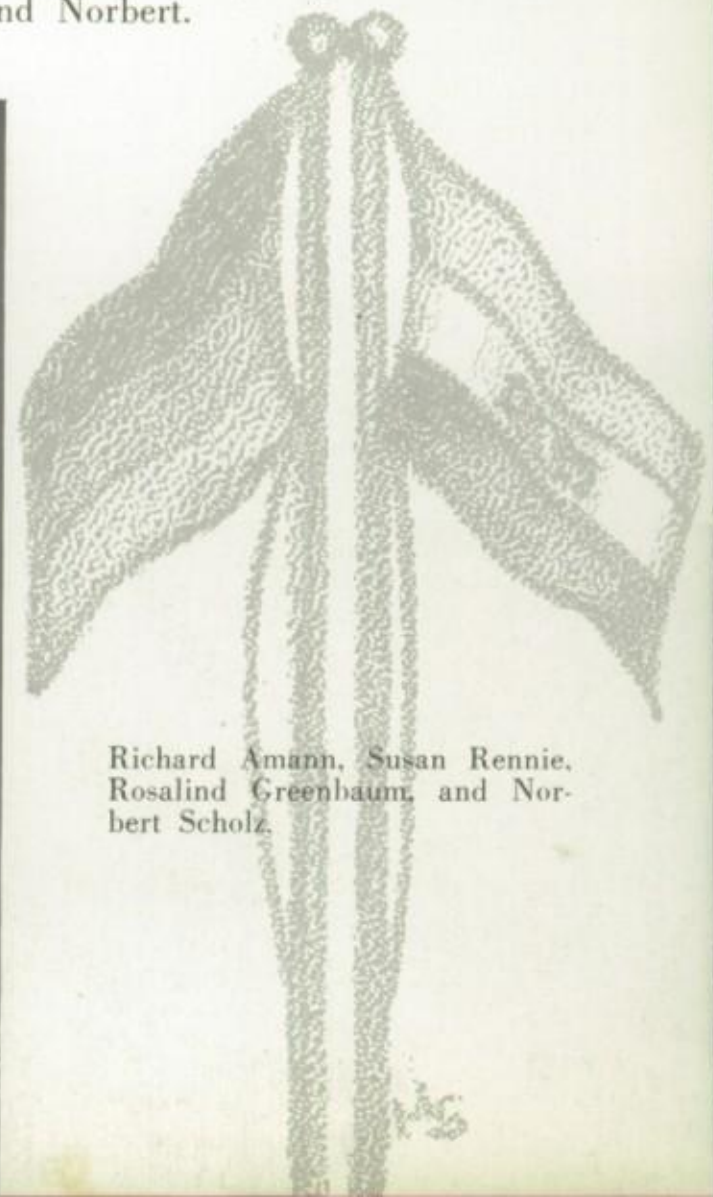

The Red Cross did another fine job this year on their designated projects. One of these was to collect articles for the Veterans who gave so much for our country. Miss Marjorie Breunig directed the activities of this compassionate, well-intentioned organization toward its worthy goals. Members are elected from each homeroom to do this important work. The high percentage of student membership in the Red Cross shows our school spirit in support of the hard-working staff.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

In 1957 Malverne once again was pleased to welcome guests from foreign countries. These students were brought to the United States by the Herald Tribune Youth Forum in cooperation with Mr. Charles Ray and our Citizenship Education Department. This year we entertained two students, Susan Rennie from the Union of South Africa, and Norbert Scholz from Germany. Susan was the guest of Rosalind Greenbaum, and Richard Amann was host to Norbert. During their three weeks at Malverne they became active members of our classes participating in our entire school program. It was wonderful having them here, and we shall long remember their pleasant and inspiring visit. The best of everything to our new friends, Susan and Norbert.

CAROLERS

PLAY CAST

Robert Geehan, Veronica Swartz, Susan Frantz, Michael Ober, and Jeffrey Moss.

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly" sang the carolers as they opened the traditional Christmas program in Malverne's auditorium. Carols and a play were sung and performed by Junior High Students directed by members of the English Department, Miss Marie di Lorenzo, Miss Helen Dugas, and Mr. Lester Wallace. This year's special treat was a "Christmas Medley" by Mr. Robert Berger's newly formed Woodwindtet. Highlighting the program, of course, was the Chorus and Choir, led by Mr. Lewis Benzon, as they sang lovely seasonal songs. But the most impressive part came when the Alumni were called to the stage to join in the concluding number. When the lights came up the words of the famed carol were on everyone's lips: "We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year".

Opening Night

MAY 24

See the stars and directors of one of the greatest musicals Malverne has ever seen! The story of "Wonderful Town", from the prize-winning play "My Sister Eileen", centers around two girls from Ohio who come to the Big City to make their careers. Ruth wants to be a writer; Eileen an actress. Ruth is dark, attractive, witty, and intelligent. Her sister Eileen is blonde and wide-eyed, the kind of girl every man insists upon protecting. Set in Greenwich Village of 1935, the girls get into many puzzling experiences, and meet many "personalities" — an editor, an ex-athlete, a night club operator, a wolf disguised as a newspaperman, an overly-refined druggist, a crooked landlord, and a goodly representation of the Brazilian Navy. The girls find trouble establishing themselves as writer and actress, but when things look blackest, Eileen get into a "newsworthy" situation which gives her the publicity she needs as an actress, and Ruth's coverage of the "story" lands her a newspaper job. The two night run of this lively play was a memorable occasion for us; and we sent many bravos to the superb casts for their fine production.

HOLIDAY IN VENICE

THE JUNIOR PROM turned our "gym" into a gaily decorated town square, with a central fountain surrounded by interesting shops and quaint cafes inviting Juniors to a "holiday in Venice". A rousing applause for decoration chairmen Rosalind Greenbaum and Nicky Lomangino; M.C. Bill Mason, and entertainers Penny Matson, Eugene Masula, and Lee Simon, all Venetians from way back; and to the famed Venetian orchestra of George Linder.

VARSITY

FOOTBALL

The caption beneath the picture of Malverne's gridiron eleven came true, for these leading players in our school life really made history on the field during the 1956 season. Through hard persistent work, under the guidance of Coaches Charles Fuge and Kenneth Weinbel, the team was able to cap the season by overpowering the champion, and hitherto undefeated, Wantagh. Co-captains Thomas Romans, Donald Schmoll, and Lee Simon displayed expert leadership as a rugged forward wall, and an unbeatable T formation backfield led Malverne to victory with a winning record.

"Now let's see some action on that field!"

JAY-VEE

liams' 37 points against St. Agnes, and the equally exciting and hard fought wins against Southside and Sewanhaka. On the Jay-Vee team, realizing he had a comparatively inexperienced group, Coach Richard Meyer nevertheless prepared his boys well for the long campaign. All Malverne was pleas-

SPORTS ANNOUNCERS

William Mason and Manfred Lassen.

The biggest news story of the year was the victory of our Tennis Team. Their fine spirit and teamwork, and the encouragement of Coach Paul Randall and Captain Robert Levy, enabled these men to win the coveted championship. Our Sportseasters also reported other examples of teamwork as they kept tabs on Coach Lester Hanson's Baseball Team. "Sportsmanship and Fair Play" is the motto of our school in the classroom as on the field.

CROSS COUNTRY

Our rugged Cross Country team, led by Coach Daniel Englert and Co-captains Robert Pederson and John Anderson, completed a successful season. Having two players, Joel Heine and Robert Pederson, place in the Sectionals at Bethpage and represent us in the State Sectionals at Baldwinsville. New York was an outstanding honor for Malverne.

BOWLING

Coach Robert Hill has developed this comparatively new sport in our interscholastic program into one of our most promising fields. Working successfully with such veterans of last year's second place winners as Carey Hughes, Ray Kingsley, and Tom Moody were some new stars such as Berndt Palmer and Robert Rosenberg. Placing in Section Three we have a Bowling Team worthy of applause.

TRACK

Beginning their workouts in early spring, Malverne's Track men completed a successful season. Aided by many veteran runners of last year's team and having skillful newcomers, this combination of experience and ability led them to victory.

WRESTLING

This year the Mule "matmen," under the direction of Coach Charles Fuge, were in a new league consisting of Southside, Lynbrook, Long Beach and other schools approximately the size of Malverne. As newcomers, most of the heavy-weight wrestlers worked hard to perfect their skill; while light-weight men, experienced in this athletic art, led the team. The year closed with defeat turning to victory as Malverne again displayed teamwork and good sportsmanship.

Pictured above are Malverne's Cadettes, a service organization which performs many charitable works for different groups. Sponsoring cake and candy sales and other fund-raising benefits, they are able to do such fine services as adopt a family at Christmastime. Every Cadette earns at least 125 points a year in sports, and it is, indeed, the goal of every girl to someday become a Cadette. Also pictured are the Sport Night leaders. Sport Night is an annual event which every Malverne girl excitedly anticipates. The captains are chosen by election, and it is always a tense and close race to see who will lead the two teams, each bearing a school color. The month of March is a time of avid preparation. Relays and games, songs and cheers are practiced daily; and as part of the greater Malverne "play" Sport Night is, perhaps, the most climactic act of all.

No play would be successful without the ladies — and Malverne is proud of her girls and of their successful sports program. The Girls' Sports events are the most popular in the school, largely because of the popular coaches, Mrs. Inez Buck and Miss Elizabeth Cermak. One of the chief goals of most girls is to earn her numeral, shield, letter, or gold key for extraordinary participation in sports. Sparked by such coveted awards, our program flourishes with inter-class and inter-scholastic competition.

Pictured on these pages are the pretty, smiling faces of the members of the many girls' activities. In the fall Tennis, Stunts and Tumbling, Hockey, and Volleyball are offered; during the winter the indoor sports of Bowling, Basketball, and Table Tennis are played; and in the spring the Tennis and Badminton teams join the list of activities in which our girls learn to excell. Again, "the joy of sportsman-ship and fair play is really the joy of the game", the feeling of achievement and pleasure which Malverne girls experience in all their sports, is mirrored in the pictures. Applause is always assured in any performance of these fine groups.

Graduation! and the superb accomplishment of six years of study, service, sports, and good citizenship. An exciting and happy time, and yet, a bit sad too, for a milestone has passed and a new record must be established — the fulfillment of long preparation. Remember those teachers and friends who guided and inspired us; the good times we had as classmates; the parents who loved and understood us. Remember by looking through the Oracle in the years to come, for it is more than a book — it represents the drama of a most wonderful period in our lives.

From the top: Mr. Henry Schoebel, Miss Helen Dugas, Susan Frantz, Fredric Feiner.

The curtain is about to rise on the young apprentices of Malverne's distinguished cast. In the pages that follow they show a glimpse of the behind the scenes atmosphere which makes the Junior High School an important feature of the cast as a whole. The classes which they attend, and the activities in which they participate are the training grounds on which these players prepare to take their place in the spotlight of Senior High School.

Seated: Kenneth Meyer, Richard Harris. Standing: Jeffrey Herth, Mr. Meyer, Robert LaPresti.

The Junior High School Playbill opens with the presentation of the Class of 1960. This cast has the distinction of being the largest freshman group in the history of Malverne High School. Fall activities were ushered in by a very successful dance held in October. A second dance celebrated St. Patrick's Day in March. Ninth graders found themselves in the spotlight when they took part in the productions of the Science Club, Drama Critics, Tennis Club, Library Council and Mule Circulation Staff. The male members of the cast gave their talents to freshman football, wrestling, basketball and baseball. The distaff side of the group handled the chores presented by cheerleading and circulating attendance cards. All joined together in Band, Twirling, the Magazine Subscription Drive, Red Cross, Color Guard and the One-Act Plays. The Class of 1960, having been successful understudies, now awaits their opening night as Senior High School Stars.

Next on the Playbill is the Class of '61. These energetic actors and actresses are the middle men of the Junior High School. Their current appearance was highlighted by a well attended premiere in late October and a second performance in the late spring. Both dances were served by an efficient stage crew of ninth graders. As part of their growing responsibility in school activities, eighth graders joined in the work of the Student Police, performed a one-act play, and took part in intramurals. The Class of 1961 eagerly awaits the opportunity of receiving top billing on the Junior High Marquee.

CLASS of 1962

The final performers, but by no means the least talented, on the program of Junior High School are the members of the Class of 1962. Beginning their six year journey through the halls of Malverne High School, they turned in an admirable performance. To celebrate Hallowe'en a masquerade party was held giving the young actors and actresses their first lesson in the art of make-up. Prizes were awarded for the most original and unusual costumes. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. Later in the year a spring dance was held. As a reward for their hard work during the year, the class went on a trip to Tarrytown. Many more enjoyable years are expected by the Class of 1962.

GROUP

SERVICE GROUPS

Students looking for inspiration or information in our library can find ample amounts of each with the help of the Library Council. Miss Madeline McDermott directs this group in keeping the library running smoothly and efficiently, and aiding students in their selection of books. Another capable service team is the Attendance Squad, under the leadership of Mr. Henry Schoebel. The squad consists of ten girls who daily deliver and collect the attendance cards in each homeroom.

STUDENT POLICE

One of the various service organizations which Malverne Junior High School students may take part in is the Student Police. Under the able direction of Mr. Henry Schoebel, fifty students do an outstanding job of patrolling Malverne's halls. Occasionally they lend their services to the school's evening activities. Another Junior High service organization, open only to boys, is the Stage Crew. Their advisor, Miss Ethel Grote, directs them in the construction of scenery for performances given in the auditorium. Under the leadership of Mr. Harry Winzenried, another group of Junior High School boys learns how to operate the 16mm. projectors during the fall and spring training sessions of the Visual Aids Staff. These boys show over three hundred films a year to Malverne classes.

Junior High students have the opportunity to display their talent and educational know-how at assembly programs held in the auditorium. It is the responsibility of the Assembly Committee, under the guidance of Miss Marie diLorenzo, to plan and direct such programs. Each assembly is begun with the presentation of the colors by four students chosen to form the Color Guard at the beginning of the school year. Important to the overall success of the school paper, is the Mule Circulation Staff directed by Mrs. Jean Hurvitz. The forty ninth grade girls who compose the group are responsible for selling the subscriptions, and distributing the Mules to each homeroom during the school year.

Original in its work, using much individual initiative, the Junior High Art Staff plays one of the leading roles in producing this section of the Oracle. Having a staff composed of members chosen by its faculty advisor, Mr. Wilbur Kubovec, it works in close association with the Junior High Literary Staff. The many abilities of the Art Staff must be combined to produce an attractive yearbook. The members must unite their efforts in designing and arranging. The principal purpose is to provide sketches that will blend with and accompany the photographs and articles that appear on the same pages.

After the Art Staff has set the scene and put in the background for the Junior High section of the Oracle, the Literary Staff goes into action. Assignments are given out, written and returned. It is then time for the director, Miss Marie diLorenzo, and the editors to check the copy and prepare it for printing. Much effort and time must be given to make each year's Oracle surpass all others. That is each member's goal. With Miss diLorenzo's guidance, the staff has succeeded.

HONOR SOCIETY

Seated: Judith Walk, Mabel Bauch, Dorothy Habben, Mario Sanabria, Marie Steinbicker, Noel Peters, Sheila Magarik. Standing: Miss Platz, Geraldine Moniz, Edwin Lamont, Helen Buros, Muir Simon, Ellen Larson, Alan Gordon, Carole Stehle, Carol Goetz.

The greatest honor that any Junior High student can attain is membership in the National Junior Honor Society. Members are chosen from the eighth and ninth grades at an assembly in March. They must qualify in five fields: scholarship, leadership character, and service to their school. Among the activities that this society performs are: determining class averages, awarding honor certificates and the honor banner, ushering at open house, and welcoming guests from other schools. This year's officers were Marie Steinbicker, President, and Mario Sanabria, Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Dorothy Platz is adviser for the group. Junior High students have a chance to write for the Malverne Mule, the school paper, by joining the Junior High Press Club. Their features appear on the final page devoted to activities of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students only. Mr. William Wassmer, faculty advisor in charge of production, Sue Jaffe, and Arlene Siegel, the co-editors, deserve a great deal of credit for thinking of varied and interesting ways of reporting about Malverne High School and its students. All those connected with the Mule can be proud of a job well done. Working under the able guidance and direction of Mr. Henry Schoebel, the Student Council again came through with top honors in making the school year a successful one, both financially and socially.

PRESS CLUB

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Council had listed on its playbill for this year plans for top billing parties, assembly programs and entertainment. Drives were held so that class treasuries could profit. Many honor certificates were awarded to the honor actors and actresses of Junior High. 9TH GRADE SCIENCE CLUB

First row: Roger Jellenick, David Jaffe, Hallie Ross, Linda Brizdle, Elyse Assael, Eileen Horblitt, Sherry Sachs, Karen Rosenthal. Second row: Stanley Kolasa, Meredith Nordos, Beverly Wurtzel, Carolyn Heerlein, Judith Walk, Arlene Holzman.

The Nature Club met every Wednesday with their adviser, Mrs. Natalia Dugas, to discuss what each committee of the group had accomplished during the week. Different groups worked on collections found in Malverne, illustrations of plants and animals, mounts for the dead specimens and cages for the live animals. Under the supervision of Mr. Ralph Postiglione, the members of the Ninth Grade Science Club met each Thursday morning to discuss current happenings in the field of science all over the world. In addition to this, each member was responsible for a project for the year.

RAILROAD CLUB

Under the supervision of Mr. Alexander Rosen, the Railroad Club met every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss how to build their H. O. track layout and what new models to buy. They also discussed care and maintainance of a model train's motor. The Model Club directed by Mr. James Kerr met each Wednesday to work on model airplanes. They learned the different parts of a plane and how to assemble one correctly. After the members completed the assembly of their models, they took them out for trial runs on the football field.

8TH GRADE DRAMATIC CLUB

The 8th Grade Dramatic Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Lester Wallace, met once a week to discuss plays, movies, radio shows and acting in general. From its membership came the cast of the 8th Grade One-Act Play. The Junior Drama Critics sponsored by Mr. Charles Messinger were active in reading and discussing current Broadway productions, as well as those offered in school. Meetings were held with the object of helping the group to learn to criticize theatre productions intelligently. Under the direction of Miss Judith Blackman, members of the 7th Grade Dramatic Club gave radio presentations, short scenes, and took part in the Junior High One-Act Plays.

7TH GRADE HOME ECONOMICS

The 7th Grade Homemakers, with a membership of fifteen, met on alternate Wednesdays with their adviser, Mrs. Frances Strong, to learn as much as they could about cooking and baking. The 8th Grade Homemaking Club, also sponsored by Mrs. Strong, met on alternate Wednesdays. The group conducted a successful jelly apple sale, and also made Christmas stockings. The twenty members of the 7th Grade History Club met every Tuesday with Mrs. Ellen Zoeller to do group research on that period of history in which they were most interested. Officers for the year were: Thomas Fisher, President, Samuel Fields, Vice President, and Joan Sim, Secretary-Treasurer.

TENNIS CLUB

The stage is set with pawns, knights, castles, kings and queens for the players in the Chess Club. With Sheila Magarik as president and Mr. Jack Frederick as faculty sponsor, this group has performed admirably. The Jewelry Club, directed by Mr. Wilbur Kubovec, gave its members experience in designing and executing all kinds of copper jewelry. When the weather was favorable, the Tennis Club met at Hempstead Lake State Park for private instruction and practice under the supervision of Mr. Ralph Postiglione.

GAMES CLUB

The purpose of the Games Club is purely recreational. Once a week a group of seventh graders met with Mrs. Ellen Zoeller as their sponsor. Their aim was solely recreation and good sportsmanship. Yorker Club meetings presented an opportunity for the members to engage in lively discussions about our state and our nation. At Christmas time the club provided the money for a turkey dinner for a needy family. Mrs. Imogene Hurd's excellent direction helped to make membership in the Yorker Club a memorable experience for all.

Sixth row: Henry Abramson, William Gubing.

The Junior Red Cross Council is under the supervision of Miss Phyllis Mac Cormack. This group is concerned with three drives during the school year. One of these drives collects money for the Red Cross to carry out its various projects. Another drive is for the collection of Christmas gifts for the veterans in the hospitals. The third drive obtains gifts for children overseas. Nathalie Kay, President, and Howard Matz, Vice-President worked in conjunction with the home room representatives to help this worthy organization.

CHEERING

Full of pep and vitality, these girls provided our team and its fans with original and clever cheers throughout the basketball season. They perfected fourteen cheers to help lead the team to victory.

BAND

Malverne's Junior High School Band is composed of thirty students who met daily under the supervision of Mr. Robert Berger. The Band performed at assemblies and football games. Many members look forward to participating in the Senior High Band next year.

KEYNOTES

One of the most popular musical organizations of the Junior High School is the Keynotes. This group is composed of over one hundred eighth and ninth grade students who meet twice weekly under the direction of Mr. Lewis Benzon. Steve Horblitt was elected President for the year. The Keynotes have the opportunity to perform in assemblies and in the annual Spring Concert in March. Many Keynote members look forward to becoming members of the Mixed Chorus, A Capella Choir, and the Lyres Club. Participation in Keynotes provided experience in group singing which is required by these organizations.

THREE FOR TONIGHT

In January, thespians of Malverne Junior High began to prepare for the One Act Plays, presented yearly. The ninth grade play, Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden" was under the direction of Miss Marie di Lorenzo. It depicted a scene from the life of a family about to go visiting, and the experiences encountered on the trip. Eighth graders, under the direction of Mr. Lester Wallace presented "Her First Party Dress." This delightful play concerned a girl's first important date and the complications which surrounded it. Miss Blackman's seventh grade group offered "Bab Goes Dramatic," a comedy about a girl, who, in writing her first play, involves her family and friends in an embarrassing situation. In addition to the cast, others worthy of commendation were Ann Speirs and Linda Baronciani, understudies for the part of Bab. Sylvia Egelman and Carolyn Alston were prompters. Properties were handled by Ellen Trussell, Carolyn Alston, and Judy White.

BASKETBALL

Malverne's freshman basketball season opened at the end of the first semester. Mr. Richard Meyer coached the team and James Williams was appointed as manager. Games were played against Hewlett, West Hempstead, and St. Agnes. The freshman football squad was composed of twenty-six boys who were coached by Mr. Hugo Cross. The squad played a total of three games. Manager of the team was Melvin Hurdle. For the second season freshman wrestling was directed by Mr. Charles Fuge. This year the squad took part in several matches.
